

ANOTHER WALLOP FOR MAJOR. FUNKHOUSER'S OFFICE

Major Funkhouser's office received another wallop today when the state dropped Inspector of Morals Danneberg's attempted bribery charge against Harry L. Cullett, a private detective, rather than have Judge Fake throw the case out of court.

Counsel for the defense came into court with expert information to show that Danneberg was not an officer of the law but merely an attache of Funkhouser's office.

Danneberg accused Cullett of giving him $500 for which he was to wink his eagle eye at certain disorderly houses. The judge denounced the charge and gave the state the opportunity of taking a nolle prosequere or having him dismiss the case. The state then took the nolle prosequere.

OH!!! SAVED!!!

By Jim Manee.

Someone broke up a beautiful game
Of pitch one afternoon.
The "pot" had grown so big it made
The players gasp and swoon.
The low man bid the limit then,
It was enough to daze you,
But things were worse, please call a hearse,
When another yelled "I'll raise you."

P. S.—Fear not, it was only the elevator man passing that floor.

GLEASON HITS BACK

Chief Gleason hit back at State's Attorney Hoynes in answering charges against police in gunmen cases. Gleason claims records show crooks and pickpockets have been released within a few days after getting long terms. He also intimated that the state's attorney's office could stand an investigation.

TODAY'S HEALTHOGRAM

The warm bath without soap soothes and calms a person. It usually induces sleep. It is considered good for mental tension and for conditions which border on delirium. To get at the nerves various methods have been used, such as sitz baths, hot foot baths and wet packs. To get at the nerves of a part by a hot or cold bath is rather better than to do it by taking medicine.

Instead of loving our neighbors as we love ourselves most of us are satisfied to love them as they love us.
